About the Public Service Week (PSW)

Public Service Week is an annual event to:

Create a greater appreciation and pride for the work of the Public Service

Inspire public officers to live out the values and ethos of the Public Service, which is to be ready for the future

Increase cohesion and build communities among public officers

Public Service Week 2022 – Theme

The theme for PSW 2022 is ‘Be The New’.

It is a call for officers to uncover their hidden traits and unleash new aspects of themselves that will redefine the meaning of work and awaken their sense of purpose.

The new normal is no longer new – disruptions and braving uncertainties together have become our way of life.

What's new, is within you.

New mindsets, competencies and perspectives.

Enabling you to experiment boldly, work differently and grow with diversity.

Let's build on our good work and build each other up.

It's time to Be The New.

And what's new, is up to you.

About the Public Sector Transformation Convention (PSTC)

The Public Sector Transformation Convention 2022 is a platform where we share best practices from within and beyond the Public Sector with our officers, to inspire transformation of our work, workforce, and workplace.

As one of the key events of Public Service Week 2022, this year's Convention comprises three webinars featuring private practitioners, and senior public and people sector leaders.

Even as we redefine the meaning of work, reignite our sense of purpose, and transform our work, workforce and workplace, we will continue to support our officers' well-being. In line with the themes of the PST Convention 2022, we have lined up a series of side events from June to July 2022 to encourage public officers to cultivate resilience and maintain physical, social and mental wellness through meaningful and fun programmes.

About this Calendar of Events & Activities

Well-being is a critical enabler in transformation. To build a resilient and grounded public service, we need to shape a workplace environment that supports officers' well-being. Even as we redefine the meaning of work, reignite our sense of purpose, and transform our work, workforce and workplace, we will continue to support our officers' well-being.

In line with the themes of the PST Convention, we have lined up a series of side events from June to July 2022 to encourage public officers to cultivate resilience and maintain physical, social and mental wellness through meaningful and fun programmes.

Look forward to Team Challenges that you can partake in with your fellow public officers and win exciting prizes! Also, check out the wide variety of activities that you can sign up for, ranging from workshops and guided tours to events and festivals. There's something to cater to everyone's interests, whether you're interested in nature, arts, sports or wellness.

Broadly categorised under Gardening, Nature, Sports & Wellness and Special Events, these activities are carefully curated and organised by the National Parks Board (NParks), Health Promotion Board (HPB), People's Association (PA) and SportSG.

Do also check out the learning activities offered under the PSW Learning Festival for more activities organised by our fellow public sector agencies, aimed to empower officers as we step into the new normal.

Yoga Flow

by PA

Yoga Flow is a form of yoga which moves dynamically from one posture immediately to another, following the breath. This continuous flow of movement and breath generates a meditative state, encouraging practitioners to focus on the experience and present moment. The class usually begin with gentler movements to warm up the body, then move into progressively more challenging flowing sequences. These may include standing poses, balances, inversions and peak poses. The classes tend to end with slower, deeper stretches, and often floor-based asana practice.

Wellness in Transition for New Entrants

by HPB

Starting a new job is never easy, more so in this pandemic where some of us start our first day of work at home!

With meetings behind a screen and limited pantry talks, getting to know new colleagues and supervisors may not come as naturally. Integrating into a new environment can be stressful, and this stress may manifest in ways such as constant worrying, reduced ability to concentrate, and physiological symptoms like headaches and stomachaches.

While it is common to feel stressed during this transition period, it is also important to know when and where to seek help if needed.

Learn from the team of psychologists and counsellors as they share tips on managing stress and transitions, as well as tips on building relationships at work in this new normal.

Pesta Ubin and Ubin Day 2022

by NParks

Pesta Ubin is an annual celebration of Pulau Ubin, where Ubin-loving community groups organise a series of events that showcases the rich natural and cultural heritage we have on the island. Pesta Ubin ends with Ubin Day, which is the last hoorah of the festival, with all the fun and excitement at its peak.

Pets' Day Out

by NParks

A monthly event that's all about pets!

Say 'hi' to the adorable animals up for adoption, and chat with volunteers at the Animal Welfare Groups adoption drive, have your pets checked by professional veterinarians at our free pet health check and micro-chipping sessions*, or attend workshops conducted by industry professionals!

You can also contribute to the AWGs' fundraising efforts by visiting their pages listed on www.nparks.gov.sg/pdo as a small 'thank you' for their heart and work in taking care of the animals.
